Incorporate stories, music and laughter as part of the healing process. Experience the physical and emotional benefits of group support. Convey how diet and nutrition can help control cancer and promote wellness. Celebrate the healing capacity of the human spirit. Explore illness as an awakening with transformative potential. Differentiate between curing the body and healing the person. People supporting friends or family touched by cancer or other illnesses. When we view illness in the context of the whole person (body, mind, soul and spirit). Only then can we see it as a blessing and utilize its gifts.
